

SEUN FALUYI

TECH PRODUCT MANAGER

PERSONAL PROFILE

I am Seun Daramola Faluyi. I am smart and passionate about building technological products for the next billion users.

I started my career as a self-taught software developer and now transitioned into the product management role to help guide the process of building world-class technology solutions.

I love taking meaningful initiatives and working across diverse teams that solve real-world problems.

SOME KEY ACHIEVEMENTS IN THE LAST 2 YEARS

EZETRADEIN

- I was able to properly breakdown the problem that Ezetradain wanted to solve and helped in creating a proper roadmap for a solution.
- Ezetradain version 2 app got into the Y-Combinator incubator program. Thanks to my hardwork and that of the amazing team I worked with.

BABBAN GONA

- Contributing to prototyping and designing specifications for mobile applications used by field agents
- Managing the application that pays out cash to the farmers managed by the organization.

TECHNOLOGY COMMUNITY

- I've had the privilege of speaking at tech events and also writing blog posts on software engineering and product management. These initiatives have helped in promoting the brands I represent and also grooming other folks in tech.

ANDELA / PRODPERFECT

- Contributed meaningfully to ProdPerfect (Andela's partner). The work of myself and my colleagues gave Andela its largest upsell till date.
